

Territorians are tired of the Territory being the booziest jurisdiction in Australia and tired of the problems associated with too much grog.

Territorians want political representatives and leaders that will protect families and give children and young people a future alive with hope and opportunity.

SO WHERE DO THE PARTIES AND CANDIDATES STAND ON KEY ALCOHOL POLICIES LEADING UP TO THIS ELECTION?

	Country Liberals	Labor	Greens	1Territory	Delia Lawrie	Kezia Purick
Reintroduce a Banned Drinkers' Register	✗	★	★	★	★	?
Introduce a minimum price for alcohol, equivalent to the existing price of takeaway full-strength beer	✗	✗	★	★	★	★
Respond to the final report of the Select Committee on Action to Prevent Foetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorders	?	☆	?	★	★	★
Introduce a risk-based liquor licensing scheme	✗	✗	★	☆	★	?
Ban political donations from the alcohol industry	✗	?	★	★	★	☆

★ STRONG SUPPORT
 ☆ SOME SUPPORT
 ? UNCERTAIN
 ✗ NO SUPPORT

The people's alcohol action coalition (PAAC) and the Foundation for Alcohol Research and Education asked the parties and key candidates for their responses to questions on five key alcohol policies, based on the PAAC and FARE 2016 election platform, Calling time on too much grog in the NT. This scorecard has been developed based on their responses.

See the responses and party policies at www.fare.org.au/fare-and-paac-northern-territory-2016-election-platform

Join the discussion at #ntpol and #ntvotes and include #alcohol in your post.

PAAC is an Alice Springs-based community organisation that aims to reduce the impact of alcohol-related harm.

FARE is an independent not-for-profit organisation working to stop the harm caused by alcohol.