

2017 QCAA ALCOHOL POLICY ELECTION FORUM

The Queensland Coalition for Action on Alcohol (QCAA) invites you to 2017 QCAA Alcohol Policy Election Forum

10:00am to 12:00pm

Friday 17 November 2017

United Service Club Queensland, 183 Wickham Terrace, Spring Hill

On Saturday 25 November 2017, Queensland will head to the polls for the State Election. If elected, do you want know what your local MP intends to do to address alcohol harms?

QCAA, a coalition of health, community, and research organisations, is holding an Election Forum to allow representatives of Queensland political parties to put forward their plans to reduce alcohol harm in Queensland.

Join members of QCAA at the Election Forum to hear from your political representatives and raise important questions about alcohol policy.

Candidates will also outline their position on key policies within the QCAA Election platform Alcohol policy: prioritising healthy choices.

This event is open to the public. If you are interested in attending please register at <https://2017qcaa.eventbrite.com.au>.

More information about the event, including a full program of speakers, will be released shortly.

Register at Eventbrite.
